DELHI THE PROBABLE CHOICE.

KEENE'S HORSE IN FAVOR FOR THE BROOKLYN HANDICAP.

August Belmont's Lord of the Vale Also Well Thought Of-Grazialle, Dainty and Colonial Girl Not Lost Sight of in the Big Race at Gravesend To-day.

What is generally regarded as an ordinary Brooklyn Handicap, one mile and a quarter, at Gravesend, this afternoon. There are only twelve horses in the official list, such famous performers as Hermis, Ort Wells, Stalwart, Beldame, The Picket, Sysonby, Tanya and Artful being among the absentees. From the opinion prevalent among turfmen last night the inference was drawn that James R. Keene's Delhi and August Bel-mont's Lord of the Vale would be the popular choices, with the Keene horse first in favor. Delhi will pick up the top weight, 124 pounds, and will be ridden by Tommy Burns. The son of Ben Brush has had only one race this year, in which he was disqualified for fouling. He was not at his best on that occasion, but Trainer James Rowe has been steadily fitting him for this big event, with the result that he will go to the post ready to run up to last year's brilliant form, providing the weather and track conditions are favorable.

Lord of the Vale, who won the Saratoga Handicap last year, has been prepared for the handicap by Jack Joyner. The flastings horse worked over the handicap route the other day in 2:11, with a big stable boy in th saddle. He will shoulder 118 pounds, and Willie Davis will have the mount. C. E. Rowe's Colonial Girl, winner of the $50,000 World's Fair Handicap last June, and who finished third in the recent Metropolitan Handicap, at Belmont Park, when Sysonby and Race King ran a dead heat, may be a factor, together with her stable companion, Dainty and his Prestonpans horse Proper who ran third to The Picket and Irish Lad in last year's Brooklyn. Dainty has not n to the races since she left California. She is considered dangerous with 114 pounds and George Odom will have the leg up. Proper, with 108, will be handled by Frank Neill, and the stable will probably find plenty of support. S. S. Brown's Broom-stick, winner of the Brighton Handicap last year and holder of the world's record for a mile and a quarter, is asked to pick up 119 unds. He has not done anything remarkable in his trials, but if he is fit he will be worth considering. Jack Martin, the regular stable jockey, will wear the silks.

The Columbia Stable's Graziallo, with 109 pounds, is well thought of. This colt has been running all the spring with heavy imposts and can go the distance. Hildebrand was engaged to ride him several days ago, and it is said that he will receive $1,000 for plunger, thinks he has a chance with his Hamburg four-year-old Leonidas, who won Hamburg four-year-old Leonidas, who won a handican on Tuesday in such a manner as to warrant sending him to the post to-day. As Hildebrand is unavailable, leager will probably give the mount to Willie Knapp. The Boston Stable's Ostrich will have a pull at the weights with only 02 pounds and with little crimmins in the saddle he is sure to be supported. He will carry 28 pounds less than in his last race, when Leonidas took his measure. James McLaughlin's last carry feathers, but nobody seems to care for their chances. The handicap will be run at about 4 o'clock. The conditions and entries are as follows:

The second race is for platers, one mile and a sixteenth, with Conjurer, Mabel Richardson, Jane Holly and others. Three-year-olds will run in the fifth event, at about six furlongs, with Thirty-Third, Supreme Court, Gay Lad, Little Woods, Jetson and Water Mirrer possible factors. In the last race, for maiden two-year-olds, five furlongs, Miss Point, Don Diego, Blue Mamie and Voorhees may find support. TANYA'S BELMONT STAKES. H. P. Whitney's Mare Beats August Belmont's Blandy. Harry Payne Whitney's famous mare Tanya, by Meddler-Handspun, won the rich Belmont Stakes for three-year-olds, one mile and a quarter, at Belmont Park yesterday afternoon, while 25,000 spectators went wild with delight. Tanya had started only once before and was badly beaten, but she was at her best in this historic turf classic, and after feet in the first three-quarters of a mile sh a mild drive by a half length in 2:05.

Tanya was the favorite in the speculation, being backed down to 11 to 5, while Wild Mint went up to 16 to 5. August Belmont's Blandy and John E. Madden's Hot Shot were both played generously at fours. Seven horses faced the gate, and when they were sent away over the new Belmont course, shaped like the letter "S," Tanya, with Hildebrand up, rushed away from the others with raced for a quarter of a mile when the Keene colt took a temporary lead, but when Tanya was sent up for this advantage, she assumed it easily. Soon Wild Mint was in distress and stopping so that Tanya turned into the homestretch with a commanding lead.

Blandy and Hot Shot, who had been following the two pacemakers, half a dozen lengths back, were now put under the whip in a vain attempt to overhaul the Whitney mare, but though Blandy was game and cut down the advantage to a half a length at the wire, Tanya never felt a blow from the whip. Hot Shot was third, three lengths away and a half a

The Whitney Stable was not so fortunate in the Eclipse Stakes for two years olds, five and a half furlongs. The Hamburg colts Pegasus and Battle Axe were 3 to 5 favorites but they ran disappointingly. Pegasus was last while Battle Axe was third, beaten a neck by Sydney Paget's Jacobite, 5 to 1. It is possible that Jacobite but for a rough journey, in which he was shut off several times, would have won, but as it was he was beaten a scant length by F. R. Hitchcock's vendor, 4 to 1, a colt by Ogden -Vendu, who got a clever ride from Lucien Lyne. The time was 106 3-5.

The finish of the Grand National Steeplechase, at about two miles and a half, was one of the most sensational ever seen in a jumping race. Four horses passed the judges heads apart. Mackey Dwyer, a 10 to 1 shot, splendidly ridden by Holman, got up in the last jump and beat J. W. Colt's Arian, second choice, by a nose. Arian lasted long enough to take T. Hitchcock, Jr.'s, Hylas, the favorite, into camp by an eyelash. Flying Buttress, heavily backed at threes, was fourth. The time was 5:03 3-5.

New York, an 8 to 1, shot, was the winner of the handicap at seven furlones, with Red Knight, 13 to 5, taking the place in the fack of time from Keniworth, 12 to 1. Race Knig, the favorite, was never a factor. The time was 127 2-5.

A poor ride on the part of J. J. Walsh was the cause of the defeat of Frank Farrell's changlain, a hot favorite in the first race at seven and a half furlongs. Tommy Waddell, 4 to 1, beat Farrell's colt a neck after the latter had been shut off and messed about almost from the start. Whorler, 20 to 1, was third, beaten a head and gaining rapidly. The time was 1:34 2-5.

C. E. Rowe put over a good thing in the second race for two-year-olds, five and a half furlongs, in La Sorciere, backed down to 7 to 2. The colt made all the running and won by three parts of a length from R. Twiston, Jr.'s, Gallavant, odds on favorite. Gold Sifter, second choice, was a strong third. The time was 1:36 1-5.

GOSSIP OF THE RACETRACK.

tinguish Themselves Tc-day. the usual lines. In all probability there will be more than eighty books in the front line, a majority of them operated by members of Metropolitan Turf Association. The Mets were making plans yesterday to wear new buttons of conspicuous size so that the wearers could be distinguished from the other layers in the ring. But it is just possible that this scheme will be frowned upon by those who have control of affairs in the betting shed. If there are any arrests, at the instance of those who have threatened to break up racing, they will be made quietly so that business can proceed as usual without interruption. As a matter of fact, the track managers do not fear trouble now that they have severed all financial relations with the betting end of the game. Yesterday's Belmont Stakes was worth $20,210 gross, of which Tanya's share was $16,000, together with $1,000 in plate.

The Eclipse Stakes was worth $7,600 to the winner, F. R. Hitchcock's Vendor.

The Grand National Steeplechase was worth $5,310 to the winner, the Bonnie Brook Stable's Mackey Dwyer. The real owner of the stable is George Saportas, a well known 'amateur horseman, who has secured some good jumpers this year. Mackey Dwyer had been steadily improving in recent races, and his victory, all things considered, was not entirely unexpected. Dave Johnson, the Sullivans, Frank Farrell and other heavy bettors lost commissions on Arian in this race, while the clubhouse contingent, which was out in full force, dropped many dellars

There was something of a killing with C. E. Rowe's La Sorciere, a colt by Sorcerer-Ilma B., who won the second race. The colt, for whom Rowe and his partner, Otto Stifel, the at 5 to 1, and was hammered down to 13 to 5 Mayer got down a $5,000 commission presumably for Stifel, and other plungers backed the colt so heavily that it was estimated that $40.000 was paid out on his success. Lichtenstein lost a big bet on Gallav in this race, while Charley Heney played C Sifter, who was also backed by J. Gr Lyman.

in this race, while Charley Heney played Gold Sifter, who was also backed by J. Grant Lyman.

Bryn Mawr, the star of the Goughacres Stable, may not race this year. The big Atheling colt, who has been out of commission since last spring, went very lame after a work-out yesterday morning and will be retired for the present at least.

Jesse Lewisohn and the clubhouse patrons plunged on Tanya, forcing the odds from 3 to 1 down to 11 to 5. Mr. Whitney was delighted with his filly's splendid performance and was warmly congratulated by his friends. Newton Bennington bet on Blandy and so did Tom Costigan. Sol Lichtenstein took Wild Mint, while John E. Madden's followers bet heavily on Hot Shot.

Somebody framed up a gigantic coup with Palmbearer in the last race, the odds tumbling from 40 to 1 to twelves. For a time it looked as if the trick would succeed, but the Horoscope gelding blew up in the stretch.

Heider was severely shaken up as the result of a fall with Gascar, a good thing, in the steeplechase. He was carried off the feld in an ambulance Pending, the Jockey who was seriously injured in Tuesday's jumping race, is in a critical condition at Mineola Hospital.

George Wheelock lost a large wager on the Whitney stable in the Eclipse Stakes, while Heney played the winner.

Mike Clancy has a habit of beating the Sullivans out of good bets just now. His colt Tommy Waddell, trimmed Champlain in the first race, "Big Tim," 'little Tim," Frank Farrell and the Tammany push rooting for the favorite in vain. George Boles would have cleaned up handsomely if Whorler had won.

CINCINNATI, 4: NEW YORK (N. L., 3., A game in which errors played a leading part and ten innings long was played at the Polo Grounds yesterday between the New Yorks and Cincinnatis, and the New Yorks met with their third defeat at the hands of a Western team. They tied the score, then took the lead, then were tied in turn by the Reds and then were beaten, the final returns being 4 to 3. Valuable work was done in the infield on both sides, consisting of frequent stops of hard hit grounders which errors made the game assume both Cincinnati and New York aspects. Schlei made a costly muff, and Steinfeldt and Dahlen made thorny throws that came at such critical times that they looked as if they would bring defeat; and Dahlen's slip did eventually result in New York's defeat. Yet each made pretty plays, as did Corcoran, Bridwell and Gilbert. But for sharp, slam-bang work on swiftly skimming and eccentrically dart-luxuriated in six chances on six hits that ripped along the sod with puzzling twists and turns.

The Reds outbatted the Champions with a good deal to spare. Harper was extremely hard to hit, working his spit ball and entire repertoire judiciously, but bases on balls came near being a pitfall for him. However, it was not on account of any weakness that he resigned his job, but to give Blankenship a chance at the bat when it was do or die for the Reds. There were erratic currents of wind overhead that gave the fielders trouble in judging fly balls. A fielder could not get set for a fly because the ball was likely to take a sudden change in direction when coming down, as if an invisible spirit was behind it with a bellows.

Neither side was at all assertive at the bat in the first three innings. In the fourth Corcoran made the first of three hits, a two-bagger which shot by Devlin with singing speed. After Seymour had sacrificed Sebring whipped a liner over the infield to right center and came all the way home. Browne got the ball belore it reached the ropes thus disproving the theory that the ball must be hit beyond the ropes for a home run to be made. Bowerman led off with a two-bagger in the sixth but three fly balls ended the inning before he could annex bimself to the plate.

Mertes was the first New Yorker up in the seventh inning and walked. He was put out on a peculiar play. Dahlen hit to Barry, who fielded the ball to Corcoran at second. But Corcoran did not have his foot on the base, and Mertes was safe. Mertes, however, was out of balance, fell away from the bag and tried to get to third. He was run down by Corcoran and Steinfeldt. Devlin raised a high fly back of short, which Seymour muffel after a run. On Glibert's out at first Dahlen secored, and on Steinfeldt's low throw or Bowerman's grounder Devlin scored. A base on balls to Donlin in the eighth, Browne's sactifice McGann's single and Schlei's muff of Steinfeldt's assist put the New Yorks one run a head Steinfeldt singled in the ninth, went to second on Kelley's sacrifice, to third on Schlet's out and scored when Dahlen made a wild throw of Blankenship's contribution. In the tenth inning, Corcoran hit hard to right center. Seymour was hit by a pitched ball. Sebring forwarded both men a base with a bounder to McGann, the latter making a rattling good stop. Barry singled cleanly to center, scoring Corcoran. In New York's half of the tenth Browne made a scratch single, but Ewing was too much for the other batters.

Selec Protests a Game.

Frank Selee, manager of the Chicago National League baseball team, came to New York from Philadelphia yesterday with a protest of the game of last Tuesday, in which his team was beaten by the Philadelphias, According to the Chicago manager, Casey of his team was on first base when Schulte sent a fly to Courtney, the Quaker third baseman. Courtney muffed the ball squarely, and Casey, being forced to run, did run down to second. Courtney threw the ball to Gleason at second base, Schulte, meanwhile, running to first. Umpire Johnstone not only declared Casey out but Schulte as well, allowing a double play. The rule regarding an infield fly says there must be men on first and second bases or first, second and third bases and not more than one out for the batter to be out the moment the ball is hit; and Selee does not understand on what ground Johnstone declared both men out, Schulte running out the fly and reaching first base in safety.

BYERS WINS THE SCORE MEDAL

Travis, Not Helped by His Long Clubs, Ties With Archie Graham—Harold Wilcox and Long Drivers Carry Eighth Green-Thirty-two Left in for Title.

Eben M. Byers, bailing from St. Andrews, won the score medal in the thirty-six hole qualifying round yesterday of the Metropolitan Golf Association's championship with 152. Archie Graham of North Jersey and Walter J. Travis were tied at 157. There were twelve more under 170, Arden M. Robbins heading the bunch with 102, while sixty-seven finished. This was eight more than finished last year, but the liberal program, splendid course and the enterprise of the Fox Hills Golf Club deserved a still better Travis and his long clubs were the topics on every tongue, for after losing with them at the Lakewood and winning at the Garden City tournament, it was thought that the hilly Fox Hills course, which is an easy one hilly Fox Hills course, which is an easy one to score on if one gets distance and direction on the drives and second shots, would be the crucial test. The mistakes that hurt Travis's score mostly occurred in driving. Long shofts give distance, but with bad direction, a truism since the kindergarten days of golf, and capable player though he is, Travis has not solved an answer as yet to this charge against his fad.

As a proof of the ease of the course to a safe driver, Byers's score is ten strokes lower than the best on record for the medal, Douglas's score at Nassau in 1900. It was thirteen strokes better than Douglas's score that won last year.

The Sound Beach Golf and Country Club course is open for the season, with Fred W. Pye in charge as professional. The first com-petition will be a "kickers" handicap on Deco-ration Day. Four new lawn tennis courts will be put into commission, and there will be music and a reception at the clubhouse in the after-noon.

Henry Moir won the opening handicap on Saturday of the Upper Montclair Golf Club, with the card of 81, 2-79. The club has added lawn tennis events this season and has a prosperous outlook. The principal contest will be for a cup presented by Dr. Morgan W. Ayres, in which there will be eight qualifying rounds as in former years, the eight winners then beginning at handicap match play. The system will keep up interest throughout the entire season and carry the final round to election day.

The Automobile Club of America has formally nominated two of its members against a team of the Chicago Automobile Club in the race on Decoration Day at the Harlem track, Chicago, for the Dr. Harold E. Thomas trophy. The gentlemen who will carry the colors of the local club are e. Inomas trophy. The gentlemen who will carry the colors of the local club are Major C. J. S. Miller, who will drive the 90 horse-power Fiat, which made a new world's track record of 52 4-5 seconds at Morris Park last Saturday, and Walter Christie, who will drive his own front-wheel driven car of 60 horse-power with which he competed last winter at Ormond Beach in Florida.

Major Miller had promised the Chicago club to appear at the meet last week, intending at the time to drive the 30 horse-power Renault which he purchased from W. Gould Brokaw last winter, but instead he will drive the Fiat, which he bought yesterday. There may be some additions to the Automobile Club of America team, as the members of that organization have been invited to join the team if they have racing cars which they wish to drive themselves. The trophy which Dr. Thomas has donated is a challenge cup for competition between teams representing the Chicago Automobile Club and the Automobile Club of America.

119—Chambers Street—119 ATLANTIC SAILING FAST. She Is Sighted by the Armenian 940 Miles

Out-Two Other Reports. seen by the White Star Line steamer Armenian, Capt. Kelk, which arrived yesterday afternoon from Liverpool. Capt. Kelk says that he sighted the yacht on May 21 at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. She was then in latitude 41.03, longitude 54.11, or about 940 miles out, and was about seven miles north of the Armenian. The wind was from the southwest and a fine sailing breeze. The Atlantic had all her reaching canvas aloft and presented a fine picture as she plowed through the water.

From the previous reports by steamers Capt. Barr was just making a little northing with the Atlantic. She had been sighted in succession by the Cedric, Minnetonka, Noordam, Bremen and Armenian. The Cedric sighted the yacht in the afternoon of May 20 in latitude 40. A few hours later she was seen by the Minnetonka in latitude 40.49. At 9:45 o'clock in the evening the Noordam saw her in latitude 40.50. The Bremen sighted the yacht at 7:05 o'clock on the morning of the 21st in latitude 41, and at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon of that day she was seen by the Armenian in latitude 41.03. She is right on the lane of the steamers coming from English ports at this season of the year and will probably cross longitude 47 at about 41 latitude. After that she will make northing fast.

The Atlantic, when the Bremen saw her was making a fine run. The exact time of sighting by the Cedric is not known, but the Bremen saw the boat at 7:05 o'clock in the morning and from that time until she was seen by the Armenian she had made 114 miles in 8 hours 25 minutes; this is averaging 13.4 nautical miles an hour.

It is possible that the Atlantic is the leader in the race across the ocean, but if the Hamburg, Endymion and other boats are astern of her it is thought strange that they have not been sighted by some of the steamers that have seen the Atlantic. It is thought by many navigators of the Atlantic that the Hamburg is still ahead of the At'antic. She was leading when she was last seen and she may have taken a passage a little to the north of the three masted schooner of Wilson Marshall and so have kept out of the lane of the steamers. The kept out of the lane of the steamers. The Fndymion, too, is to the north. She was going to make a short passage and by so doing Capt. Loesch, who is a competent navigator, would not only sail over a route many miles shorter than that taken by the Atlantic, but if he got clear of the ice meet with fresher winds than usually prevail further south on the Atlantic.

Two other reports of yachts were made yesterday by steamers. The Westernland which got to Philadelphia on Tuesday, passed the Atlantic on Saturday, May 20, at 1:15 P. M. The yacht was then in latitude 40.48 and longitude 60.20. She had all sails set and had a fair wind. The boats have been reported several times since then by faster steamers than the Westernland, but her report confirms the reports of other vessels and shows clearly the route that Capt. Barr has chosen in his passage across the Atlantic. the Atlantic.

the Atlantic.

La Campine, the oil tank, arrived yesterday and she reported that at 4 P. M. on May 20 she sighted the three masted schooner Utowana, owned by Allison V. Armour. The yacht was then in latitude 40.40 and longitude 62.15 and about 540 miles east of Sandy Hook lightship. She was at that time about 200 miles astern of the Atlantic and she, too, was taking a southern route across the Atlantic and not taking chances with the ice.
